Greetings, Harrisburg Campus Community!

I hope this message finds you all pacing yourselves over the remaining two weeks of the Spring term.

As many of you may know, April proved to be an exceptional month on and off the Harrisburg Campus, with an abundance of events, achievements, and individuals to celebrate.

First, I was fortunate to represent the Harrisburg Campus at the 2018 All-PA Academic Team Awards Dinner presented by the PA Commission on Community Colleges and Phi Theta Kappa honors society to recognize the academic accomplishments of HACC students, including two award recipients from the Harrisburg Campus!

Second, students from the Respiratory Therapy program won the PA state championship in the knowledge-based “Sputum Bowl”. Please join me in congratulating Curtis Aumiller, professor, respiratory care and Joy Hughes, director of clinical education.

Third, Harrisburg Campus business students received awards from this year’s PA Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) State Leadership Conference in Pittsburgh. The HACC Harrisburg team finished third overall, not far behind the winning team from the University of Pittsburgh. Because of her leadership of our PBL team over the past year, Nicole McCartan, adjunct professor of business, was honored as the PBL State Advisor of the Year! Please join me in congratulating her, too!

Finally, this year’s Day of Giving was vibrant and full of energy (and thankfully sunshine!). With involvement from throughout the campus community and the support of the Office of College Advancement, the event was enjoyed by employees and students alike. Thank you to all who participated, and to those who joined me by making a gift to the Fund for Excellence for the Harrisburg Campus. Our gifts will continue to change our current and future student’s lives and destinies.

Harrisburg Business Students Bring Home Awards from State Conference

Our Harrisburg business students brought home impressive awards from this year's Pennsylvania Phi Beta Lambda State Leadership Conference. What makes this all the more exciting is that our chapter, which is small in number compared to chapters around the state, competed against the top colleges and universities around the state. We had 18 students attend and compete in the conference.

1st Place
Emma Lupia and Liz Hickernson in Business Presentation
Corinne Guinter in Social Media Challenge

2nd Place
David D’Alessio in Cyber Security
Bryanna and Lierin Randall- Small Business Management

3rd Place
David D’Alessio in Entrepreneurship Concepts
Johnny Byler in Job Interview
Ben Byler in Public Speaking
Anbira Bates in Networking Concepts

After not placing last year, our chapter was focused this year on winning the Gold Seal of Merit, Outstanding Chapter challenge. We are excited to report that our chapter placed third this year, not too far behind the first place winner, the University of Pittsburgh.
On April 9, the PA Commission for Community Colleges joined Phi Theta Kappa to honor students who were nominated by their colleges to the All-PA Academic Team.

The All-PA Academic Team Awards, building from the National All-USA Academic Team for two-year colleges, recognizes an exceptional group of community college students who have achieved academic excellence and demonstrated a commitment to their colleges and communities. HACC was proud to recognize six students including two from the Harrisburg Campus.

These students represent the diversity of community colleges and confirm the community colleges’ commitment to providing accessible and affordable higher education to Pennsylvanians. The majority of the All-PA Academic Team members will graduate with the intention of continuing their education at baccalaureate degree-granting colleges and universities.
Respiratory Therapy Students Win State Championship!

The respiratory therapy students recently competed in the “sputum bowl” on April 11, which is a jeopardy style contest to test knowledge on respiratory therapy and general medical knowledge during the Pennsylvania Society for Respiratory Care (PSRC) Eastern Regional Conference. There were two teams from HACC, and a team called “Trach Nation” won the regional competition, and then competed with the winner of the Western region to take the state championship! The Trach Nation team consists of Barbara Book, Sarah Adamou, and Ambrosia Harrison (pictured in the front row holding the sign). HACC will now represent the state at the American Association for Respiratory Care (AARC) International Congress’ national sputum bowl competition being held in Las Vegas, NV, in December. We are so proud of our students and program faculty! Go HAWKS!

Respiratory Therapy Program Wins Award

For the sixth year in a row, the Respiratory Therapist Program has been awarded the Distinguished RRT Credentialing Success Award by their accreditation body, the Commission on Accreditation for Respiratory Care. In order to earn this award, the program must be meeting all the established CoARC thresholds for CRT credentialing success, retention, on-time graduation rate, overall employer and graduate satisfaction, and have an RRT credentialing success rate of 90% or above. Congratulations to the respiratory program for all their hard work and well deserved recognition.

The Bruce E. Cooper Student Center was selected as one of the Best Interior Architecture of 2017 in a recent edition of Mid Atlantic Real Estate Journal.

Architect, Murray Associates, submitted the Cooper Renovation Project into the Journal which is published in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

The building was originally constructed in 1968 and underwent several minor renovations in the 1980’s and 1990’s. Since its construction, students’ needs have changed dramatically and the College needed to adapt to serve its students. The renovation has since transformed the building to a one-stop location for student services including registration, financial aid, disability services, counseling and advising, and host of other services. The building serves as the hub of campus with the new College operated Chef’s Apprentice Restaurant, Subway food service, banking services from a local credit union, and a variety of space throughout where students can congregate to study for classes or just hang out.

The new design has been applauded by students, visitors, faculty and staff. The design is functional and attractive, which allows the College to better service the students.

Congratulations to Murray Associates for their modern, functional, and inviting design. It is certain to be the centerpiece of the campus for many decades to come.
At Navigating With Noah on April 11, faculty and staff joined in on a great discussion about safety, awareness and what to watch for here on campus and around our communities. We learned about ways and tools security uses to protect us here on campus. In addition, Christine Cappuzzo, Campus director, Counseling and Anthony Beard, director, Student Conduct shared with us how to handle situations with students we may feel could use someone to talk to and what options there are for counseling services.

Watch for new dates and topics coming in Fall 2018!

Journey to Excellence with Dr. Ski

On April 17, Dr. Ski hosted his Spring 2018 Journey to Excellence Forum at HACC’s Harrisburg Campus. He discussed updates on the spring semester budget, a report on Middle States accreditation, and invited questions from faculty and staff who attended.
The Wildwood Writers’ Festival was a success. We had 259 students in attendance throughout the day. The poets and writers who presented were high caliber. The Festival provides the opportunity for our students to hear original work by writers who are actively writing and publishing. For many of our students, this is the first time they have ever engaged with poetry and story in this way.

Thank you, Lisa Campbell for working with us!

Thank you to the members of the committee who helped make the event a success.

Thank you, Linda Mininger for selling books and arranging tables, and assisting with the event; Kim Allen Gleed for minding the registration table and the delicious sweet; Marie Ulmen for minding the registration table and herding students in the right direction; Paul Cockeram for making signs; and Jonathan DeYoung for his bouncing abilities.

Special thanks to Rick Kearns for his help in planning and helping emcee the event.

The Department of Theatre finished out their 2017-18 season with a production of William Golding’s “Lord of the Flies” which ran from April 19-22. The production, directed by Dave Olmsted, featured a cast of thirteen HACC students.
Congratulations to Ken Shur, interim campus dean, Student Affairs, who completed the Boston Marathon on April 16. This is Ken’s fourth time running the marathon which is in its 122nd year! Ken faced strong headwinds, rain, and cold weather but nothing was stopping him from the finish line!
We are sad to say farewell to so many of our colleagues. Senior Professors Marnie Brennan (Theater), Charles Jeffery (Biology) and Professor Jeb Baxter (Geology) will be retiring at the end of the semester. Two of our OIST staff, Bob Dudley and Tom Haney, will be retiring May 2 and May 11 respectively. Associate dean John Mummert will be leaving HACC on May 25 to relocate to Nashville, TN. Long-time colleague, Fred Gantz, Assistant Professor of Sociology, will be retiring at the end of the semester. All of these individuals have contributed to the campus community and to HACC’s mission. They have been active and engaged through their years of dedicated service. We wish them well!

We are excited to announce that Kristen Shaeffer will be joining Harrisburg Academic Affairs on April 30 as our new Administrative Office Specialist supporting CHA and English. We are looking forward to her transition from Payroll to her new role supporting faculty and students!
