JOIN US FOR THE HACC YORK CAMPUS HUMAN SERVICES FAIR!

March is Social Work Month and HACC York Campus will celebrate with a Human Services Fair on Thursday, March 26th. The Fair will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will be held in the Glatfelter Community Room, Cytec. York County Human Service Agencies have been invited to host tables and meet with students who would like to explore volunteer, employment or internship opportunities. The Agencies were also invited to bring information to share with our students about the resources and supports they offer the community.

Please help us share this information with your students! For more information, contact Tannisha Fuentes at tfuentes@hacc.edu.

DISABILITY AWARENESS FAIR

Join us for an opportunity to learn about and experience disability.

Wednesday, March 25
Glatfelter Community Room, Cytec 101
11-1:30 pm
Refreshments, Prizes, and Redefining Disability

Come out and have an opportunity to learn about disabilities in a fun and interactive way! Experiential tables will be set up to allow participants to learn sign language, attempt to read lips, write in Braille, take a depression screening and much more!

Bring your students! Bring yourself!!

There will be door prizes for students (donated by SGA), professors (donated by Academic Affairs) and staff (donated by Student Affairs).

NEW HACC COMMUNICATIONS HUB READY FOR USE

The Office of College Advancement is excited to unveil the College’s new communications hub, which replaces the previous online request form for assistance from the Integrated Marketing Communications (IMC) Department.

Please access the hub and its tutorial video through the Office of College Advancement and HACC Foundation myHACC channel to request assistance with integrated marketing communications projects, including:

- Advertising
- Email and phone blasts
- Facebook page creation
- Graphic design and print projects
- Including information in College publications and newsletters
- News releases
- Online form creation
- Photography and videography
- Web announcements on www.hacc.edu
- Web page creation

The hub can also connect you with other College communications channels, such as the Ski Gram, and assist you with requesting non-promotional materials like letterhead, business cards and name badges.

The communications hub was created based on recommendations from a collegewide task force that met over the last year. Task force members included:

- Cindy Donell
- Teri Guerrisi
- Ashley Kopp
- Chelsea Krepps (chair)
- Megan Kurtz
- Kay Litman
- Rachel L. MacAulay
- Ken Norton
- Jennifer Price
- Pam Saylor

The hub has some exciting features, including an easy-to-follow format that saves your contact information so you only have to enter it the first time you submit a form through the hub. You will also be able to save your progress and return to your form as needed and to upload supporting documents directly into the hub.
The hub process includes two levels of assessment:

- The first is a brief survey following the submission of a request that will be used to gather feedback on the communications hub.
- The second is a survey about the entire production process that will be provided to the requestor upon project completion.

As you submit requests to the communications hub, please take the time to complete the surveys. The IMC Department values your feedback and will continue to update the hub and related

STUDENTS LEARN ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE AND IMPACT OF ENVIRONMENTAL GRAPHICS

Errol Wizda, Coordinator of Student Life & Multicultural Programs, and the HACC York Student Government Association, noticed the Hawk’s Hideaway was a little hard to find tucked in the industrial section of the Goodling building hallways—and perhaps the solution was to create a mural. Margaret Brandt, faculty member in the visual arts, asked her Fundamental of 2D Design students if they would be interested in designing mural proposals, and they said, “Yes!”

The students visited the space, talked to the S.G.A. members about what they envisioned, then measured and scaled the proportion of the wall space into a reduced proposal size, while learning about the importance of environmental design. The students reviewed the surrounding architectural parameters then worked toward the goal of making the space interesting and inviting—to create a sense of entrance into the Hawk’s Hideaway. This one idea to create a mural turned into sixteen colorful and unique painted proposals from eight students. It was a job well done by all the students!

The proposals were voted on by HACC York campus students, and Amanda Vegas’ striking design was selected. Amanda worked diligently over the summer with support from S.G.A. and the visual arts department to create the final stunning mural that now welcomes visitors to the Hawk’s Hideaway. Amanda really put her heart into the design! Be sure to visit the Hawk’s Hideaway and see the mural. Congratulations, Amanda!

2015 RACE AGAINST RACISM

Join the HACC York Campus Community Service Club (CSC) team at the 2015 Race Against Racism in Downtown York. The event, sponsored by the York YWCA, will be held on Saturday, April 25 at 9:00 am. The event is a 5K walk/run that takes place through the streets of downtown York and is followed by the Humanity Fest. The Fest will feature multi-cultural vendors, food and crafts. Proceeds support YWCA York’s Racial Justice Institute.

The CSC would like to encourage staff, faculty, studentes, and their families to join their team. Registration is $20 per person (14 and younger is $10) and includes a tshirt. The club will cover the registration fee for all current HACC York students who register with their team. Please contact Jill Mitzel at jkmitzel@hacc.edu or Rabyia Ahmed at rahmed@hacc.edu for additional information.
BOND REFINANCING SAVES HACC $1.9M

Refinancing the outstanding capital improvement bonds will not extend the term of the original bonds; however, it will slightly accelerate payments at a lower interest rate.

The College’s Board of Trustees approved refinancing of the bonds in November 2014, enabling HACC’s Office of Finance to work with its independent financial advisor, Public Financial Management, Harrisburg, to obtain the savings.

The College, with a strong Standard & Poor's credit rating of “A-“, worked with Public Financial Management to select an underwriter through a competitive process. Janney Montgomery Scott LLC, Philadelphia, PA submitted the lowest bid resulting in an overall interest rate on the new bonds of approximately 2.476 percent.

BOOKSTORE NEWS

The staff at the HACC York Bookstore hopes that everyone is staying healthy and warm this winter season. Remember the Bookstore carries items like hats, gloves, sweatshirts and sweatpants for those cold winter days and nights. The Bookstore also has coffee, tea, hot chocolate and microwaveable dinners available for purchase to also keep you warm.

The Bookstore has recently received a new line of HACC nursing attire and long sleeve game day jersey shirts in nice spring colors. Just a reminder, 50% of the profits for the HACC nursing clothing is shared among the student nursing groups on each HACC campus. The Bookstore also carries Nike HACC shorts, short sleeve & long sleeve shirts and sweatshirts.

Think Spring!
RANDOM ACTS OF KINDNESS WEEK

One of the goals of the L.I.G.H.T. Club (Living In God’s Holy Truth), as stated in their constitution, is to build community on campus. They recently had an opportunity to do just that during “Random Acts of Kindness Week.” On Wednesday, February 11, six club members served hash-brown and egg muffins, protein snack bars, juices, bananas, clementines, cereal, and milk. All of the food was donated. The students had a lot of fun and were able to serve free snack and breakfast foods for two hours in the lobby of the Leader Building.

Not random, but very much full of purpose, the club took the opportunity to extend their sympathies to the family of Philomena Addo-Asah, who died as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on January 26, 2015. Philomena was a HACC student who was planning to continue her studies at Temple University as a pharmacy major. As requested, in lieu of flowers and in Philomena’s memory, the club donated $150 to House of Hope.

L.I.G.H.T. Club meets every Monday morning from 9:30 to 10:45 in Leader 120. All are welcome.

HACC ACADEMY VISITS THE AUTO SHOW

On Friday, January 30th students enrolled in our HACC Academy Automotive Technology program attended the 2015 Pennsylvania Auto Show held at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex. Students had an opportunity to see more than 250 vehicles on display from new 2015 models to customs and hot rods.

BOOK SALE DONATIONS NEEDED!

The White Rose Journal’s book collection bins are now available in each of the main campus buildings. Book donations will be accepted through early April. Every genre of book (except textbooks) will be accepted!
VALENTINE’S DAY EXTRAVAGANZA!

York campus students had an opportunity to take a break and enjoy some Valentine’s Day treats. Goodie bags filled with candy were abundant, and the chocolate was flowing from the chocolate fountain with plenty of delicious dippers for all. The most popular event was the “build a bear” station. Students chose an animal to stuff and dress to their liking. Many students took the opportunity to create the animals as Valentine’s gifts for their loved ones. It was a fun day and lots of students left with smiles on their faces!

NURSING STUDENTS GIVE BACK TO THE COMMUNITY

HACC York Nursing Class of 2015 recognized by the York Daily Record for their involvement in the community. Some of the content in the article is from the original YDR publication by Caitlin Kerfin.

On Thursday Feb. 26th, the HACC York Nursing Students from the Class of 2015 were recognized by the York Daily Record in a front page article highlighting the partnership that exists between the HACC York Campus and Our Daily Bread, Inc. The article reported on the events of Wed. Feb. 25th, when our nursing students took action to provide access to health care teaching and blood pressure screening to members of the York community who are guests at Our Daily Bread, Inc.

The objective of the evening was to learn how mental health and poverty impact each other. The experience was an eye opening one for the students because; many of the class members had no previous knowledge of Our Daily Bread, as a community resource.

Kimmie Becker, a member of the Class of 2015 summarized the experience stating "It's kind of mind blowing how many people stand outside for a warm meal. Seeing all walks of life helps us in the future and shows students a diverse population of different people."

Students started the evening, greeting guests as they entered and serving the meal. In other areas of the room, students were interacting with guests and focusing on blood pressure screening, discussing health concerns and sharing a meal together.

Jim Koch, Our Daily Bread Inc., business manager says that having the students share the evening with guests not only allows people to learn about their health and get their blood pressure tested, it gives the guests someone to talk to and a sense that the community cares about them and their health care needs. The guests find the students a non-threatening way to address health concerns that may not meet the level of requiring a visit to a health clinic.

The students do not diagnose or treat medical conditions; they strictly involve themselves in teaching about general health concerns, under the guidance of an RN faculty member; and, screening blood pressures. This student-guest interaction is meant to be preemptive, and if a problem is suspected, the guest is advised to visit a health clinic for follow-up.

"I haven't had my blood pressure taken in years," stated Ray Logan, a guest who was served by the students. He comes to the soup kitchen when he's in town. "It's good a lot of people don't have health care out here."

Cindy Donell stated “I am proud of the professionalism, empathy and respect that our students show during their interactions with guests at Our Daily Bread, Inc”. Our faculty and students are the heartbeat of the campus, and this is one example of how HACC York is making a difference in the community, one person at a time”.

HACC nursing student Diana Olvera, rights, checks patron David Corbin's blood pressure at Our Daily Bread soup kitchen in York on Wednesday. Corbin, 61, said he's taken medication for high blood pressure before but checked out normal during the screening. (Jeff Lautenberger — For the Daily Record/Sunday News)
HARLEM RENAISSANCE EXPERIENCE WEEK

The Library hosted a Harlem Renaissance Experience week on Feb 23-27th in celebration of Black History month. We partnered with Errol Wizda, Coordinator of Student Life & Multicultural Programs, Will Guntrum Art Professor and Dept. Chair of Communications, Humanities, and the Arts, and English Professor Jeanne Purtell. The capstone of the event was a Harlem Renaissance Read-in where students, staff, and faculty were invited to read aloud their favorite poetry and prose from the period. We were joined by special guest, Christine Lincoln, Poet Laureate of York and Jeanne Purtell’s literature class. The event was a huge success with many students participating. Christine Lincoln’s readings of poetry from the period as well as her own pieces was especially moving and inspirational. The event also generated a deep multicultural discussion with several participants sharing moving stories about their vulnerabilities, fears, perceptions, and hopes. The library has already begun planning for similar events in the future! Thank you so much to everyone who participated and helped make this event possible! If you are interested in finding out more about this incredible time period in our history please check out our online guide: http://libguides.hacc.edu/HarlemRenaissance

W.E.B. DU BOIS CULTURAL CELEBRATION

The W.E.B. Du Bois Cultural Celebration’s featured performers were Imani Edutainers, a Drum and Dance Troupe out of Lancaster. They performed traditional African dances and percussive rhythms highlighting different customs from various regions of Africa. Many students were moved by the rhythms and participated in group dance sessions. The celebration also featured a menu of traditional dishes of regions from Sub-Saharan Africa catered by Upahor Ethnic Cuisine (also in Lancaster) and culminated in a discussion on the danger of Black lives only being relevant in times of crisis by Venus Ricks, Director of Multicultural Affairs at Lebanon Valley College.
