- Clinical placement
- Essential qualifications for admission
- Admission criteria and process (this is a selective admission program)
- Information on the health form and background checks
- Typical class schedules

The information sessions will be held in the respiratory therapist lab and we'll have equipment in operation so that prospective students can see some of what they will be learning as a student. We will also have students assisting that you can meet and talk to about the program.

It is meant for prospective students as well as those preparing to apply for Fall 2012 consideration. Attendance is not mandatory but highly recommended and is open to anyone. Preregistration is required because space is limited.
