From the Office of the Campus VP

Colleagues,

Thank you for participating in our survey regarding the Master Plan. We had 78 faculty and staff participate in the survey.

The results are listed below in order of their importance to you!

- Additional hours to the Library
- Place "HACC-Lebanon this exit" sign on PA Turnpike at Lebanon/Lancaster exit and on I-81 at the Rt. 72 exit
- Increase or expand the Learning Center hours
- Paint the hallways and classrooms
- Update or replace the furniture
- Upgrade outdoor signage
- Make the campus smoke free
- Relocate the smoking area
- Increase storage space on campus.

The Lebanon campus leadership team will be exploring all of the options. As you are aware the students participated in dotmocracy. We have received excellent feedback from the students and are exploring ideas to accommodate their requests.

As we leave for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, I want to extend my deepest thanks for all of you for your continued support of our Lebanon students and the campus. May each of you have a Thanksgiving filled with love, laughter and happiness.

Regards,
Lois

From the Office of Safety and Security

Safety Escort Service

HACC's safety and security department offers safety escort services to our students and employees. If a person would like to be escorted by security personnel, the person can call their campus security office phone number and request an escort. Upon receipt of the phone call, a security officer will be dispatched to the caller's location. The security officer will then escort the caller to the desired on-campus location and a record will be made in the dispatch log. The service is available as needed and is free. Safety escorts are one of several services the safety and security department provides. Please stop by our campus security office to learn about our other services.

Thank you!

Lebanon Campus Open House a huge success!

On Wednesday, October 30th, the college held Open House events at all campus locations. The Lebanon campus hosted over 200 potential students and their families at the event. Attendees had an opportunity to talk with faculty to learn more about HACC's academic courses and program offerings. SGA and other student ambassadors provided tours and shared information about student social life at HACC. The Office of Academic Success, Disability Services, Career Services and Veteran's Affairs were on hand to demonstrate all of the great services that are available to help students succeed.

Attendees were also treated to an appearance by Hemingway, our favorite mascot.

The application fee was waived for 93 new students who turned in applications that evening!

A big thank you to the many staff, faculty and students who helped to make the evening a success.

Among the many exciting events featured that evening were a student art contest, a vocal performance by HACC student, Amy Rose, held in the campus bookstore, and to celebrate Native American Heritage Month, the SGA and bookstore presented an educational display and table to sample the Foods of the Native Americans. Also, as part of the November Art Walk, the city holds its annual Zombie Walk. Our campus was fortunate to receive a visit from the Zombies!

Help students win a $150 gift card

As part of Interact Communications ongoing research, our students are invited to voluntarily participate in an online survey through Dec. 13, 2013. Students have a chance to win a $150 Amazon gift card. They'll be asked questions pertaining to how they use the media and spend their time.

Questions may include:

- What is your favorite radio station?
- What information do you look for in the newspaper?
- How often do you go to a coffee house/shop?

As you know, their input is valued, and it is a critical step to helping us market the College and programs.

The more students who participate, the better information we'll receive. Please encourage students during these final days to participate. To help spread the word, please:

- make announcements in classes
- hang the flyer (available at myHACC under Office of College Advancement) on a bathroom door, bulletin board, entrance door or in the hallway
- email reminders to your students

All responses are confidential. The student's name will not be connected with his or her answers, and the College will not know if the student participated in the survey. If the student enters the drawing for the $150 Amazon gift card, he or she will be directed to a different website to submit personal information.
