FROM THE OFFICE OF THE CAMPUS VP

Thank you to everyone who contributed to the surveys for the campus master plan. So many great ideas were generated and captured in the draft version of the plan. A final version of the plan will be available for the college community soon. We have many opportunities to expand our program offerings, services and the campus facilities. As always, we seek to meet the needs of our students and area employers. Entering our ninth academic year, we are looking to chart the way for the next phase in the life of HACC York and your input was invaluable.

Gratitude goes to Michele Bodani, who left the York Campus last week, for all of her determination and enthusiasm in those early years when we were a start-up operation. Michele made every prospect, new student and parent feel special and taken care of. In her secondary partnership role, she dedicated hours of her time to the support and structure needed to steer the HACC Academy students through their programs and on to their first careers. So many accolades came from her community contacts who wanted me to know that she was awesome—but I already knew that! We all wish her well. Sara Shaw and Jessica Layton have also moved on from their full time positions. Sara will return to campus as an adjunct instructor this fall. Congratulations to both new moms!

Congratulations to Will Guntrum who has begun his new position as the Department Chair for the CHA Division. Interviews are taking place this week for the new Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Marion Chadwick is receiving a non-traditional student award from the Rotary Club of York this Wednesday. She'll receive a $500 check with the award. Several members of the selection committee had great things to say about Marion. I think she was a great ambassador for HACC and the needs of York County residents. She is helping to open the eyes of many to the challenges some of our students face every day to get the education they need to be successful contributors to our region. We have so many students who inspire us to do our best on their behalf. Photo of Marion to follow.

FACILITIES TIDBITS

- Recently the York campus sent most of the Facilities staff to Donegal High School for a 'Maintenance and Custodial Workshop'. The staff came back pumped with excitement over the new technologies that are available to increase efficiencies, make us a safer workplace and reduce waste. They are itching to implement what they have learned.
- The maintenance crew will be working on line striping the parking lots again. However, they will be working on this project early in the morning with hopes of the paint being dried before most of us ever arrive on campus.
- Fluctuating room temperatures are still causing some of you to experience discomfort and for that we apologize. We continue to work on finding the correct blend of air conditioning vs. outdoor temperatures and ask for your continued patience.
- Project work continues on campus with the Leader building filling our sights during the month of July.

BOOKSTORE NEWS

As the summer sessions are getting into full swing the Bookstore is getting ready for inventory. There have been additional markdowns on the clearance items to get rid of the old and make room for the new in time for the fall semester. Be sure to come checkout the new markdowns! The Bookstore would like to thank HACC staff, faculty & students for helping to make the sidewalk sale on June 12th outside of the Leader building a success.

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

On Monday, June 17th, the HVAC program graduated its 7th work release class. This is the first class that graduated 100% of the students that started the program. Better yet, 5 of the 12 students will be continuing their education in the fall at the York Campus. The Work Release Program is a joint partnership between the York County Prison System, the Workforce department of HACC, York County Commissioners and the York County Parole Board.

A big thank you to instructors Dave Rohn and Dennis King for their continuing support of the program.

ACTIVE SHOOTER TRAINING HELD IN YORK

Security officers from Harrisburg Area Community College's York campus and members of the York City Police Department conducted an active shooter drill at the George M. Leader Building at HACC's York Campus on May 17th according to a new release.

The exercise, coordinated and led by York City Police Captain Ron Camacho, brought together more than 30 officers from the two departments. Camacho also is the commander of York County Quick Response Team and a senior police training associate for International Police Training and Consulting Services, based in Tempe, Arizona.

"We are partners in ensuring the safety of the campus," Edwin Dominguez, HACC's interim Public Safety Director said in the news release. "In the event of a crisis, the York City Police Department has jurisdiction. Establishing guidelines for protocol during emergency situations allows the two teams to work together as a seamless operation."

The all-day training included opening remarks by York City Police Chief Wes Kahley, classroom instruction and the active shooter exercises. Because the campus is closed on Friday's during the summer, there were no students or faculty present.

"Taking the steps to work together before a major incident occurs ensures that the stage is set for success," Kahley said in the news release.

Security officers from HACC and members of the York City Police Department joined forces Friday, May 17, 2013, for active shooter exercises at HACC's York Campus. Organizing the training were, from left, HACC Interim Public Safety Director Edwin Dominguez, York City Police Chief Wes Kahley, York City Police Capt. Ron Camacho and HACC Interim Assistant Director of Public Safety Oriali Rivera.
