

Gettysburg Campus Update

Greetings!

As I write this month's campus update, I'm currently in Cambridge, MD attending the Wellspan Health Board retreat. Wellspan is the largest employer in Adams County. Being a member of the Wellspan Gettysburg Hospital board of directors provides a great opportunity to stay apprised of workforce development needs to inform HACC's educational offerings. A recent example is the development of HACC's Physician Office Assistant (POA) program in response to Wellspan's workforce needs. The Gettysburg Campus offered our first POA class last spring and our second POA class is scheduled for January. Currently there are 21 openings on the Wellspan job posting site for POA's.

Being on the Wellspan Gettysburg Hospital board also provides an opportunity to learn best practices from an industry facing many of the same challenges we face. This year's Wellspan retreat is focused on the evolving health care consumer, what it means to be "patient centric" and transforming the healthcare business model into a consumer centric enterprise. This is an area where I've been able to share some of our "student centered" best practices, student success initiatives and key metrics. What this retreat has reinforced for me is that we must continue to focus on who our students are and innovate our programs and services to meet their needs. Here are a few data points about our current students:

- Average age is 24.2 – our students are getting younger
- Percentage of female students continues to rise – currently 68.6%
- More ethnically diverse – increase in Latino and African American students
- Prefer daytime classes between 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.
- Taking more classes online
- Working more hours

My take-away from the retreat is a strong warning to avoid the "Legacy Trap" that blinds organizations to do everything possible to defend the existing model(s) even when they aren't working. By keeping our students at our core we can avoid the legacy trap.

GUIDANCE COUNSELOR BREAKFAST

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, approximately 20 guidance counselors from the Gettysburg Campus service region attended our annual school counselor's breakfast. Rich Hebel provided a tour of the Mechatronics Lab, Howard Alexander demonstrated Career Coach and how it can be used as a career planning tool for high school students, and Mary Arnold presented HACC's wellness counseling services.

UNITED WAY OF ADAMS COUNTY ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

As you know, the United Way supports numerous health and human service agencies, many of whom have a relationship with the College through referrals and programming. Without these agencies and our personal contributions, the United Way would be unable to address the needs of our community and our students. With your donation, United Way can:

- Provide teenagers the opportunity to take the GED test to work toward a brighter future
- Provide medication/medical care for children and infants
- Provide assistance to helpline call ins
- Provide meals to local families
- Provide transportation for job interviews, work, school, and medical appointments to people living in shelters, and so much more.

Our annual campus campaign officially begins Monday, Oct. 26. This year's activities will consist of pledge commitments, the annual auction, a used book sale and several restaurant 'Give Back' fundraisers.

GIVE BACK HACC APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

Give Back HACC is an initiative started by campus faculty member, Cristal Renzo, to give “back” to our students who are in need. Every day, many of our students and their families live with hunger and food insecurity. Give Back HACC is a program where students self-identify to receive a FREE week’s worth of groceries. This year, students will also receive a $25 gas gift card thanks to the generosity of Zion United Church of Christ in Arendtsville.

Students may apply virtually or drop off a form outside of the Student Life Office. All information is kept confidential. Food pick-up will be November 23-25.

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION HEART WALK

On September 13, over 40 Gettysburg Campus faculty, staff, and family members joined 400 walkers for the 2015 Adams County Heart and Stroke Walk. The walk was a two-mile stroll starting at the Gettysburg Area Middle School and followed a circular path through Culp's Hill. The Gettysburg Campus team, organized by security officer Ed Baltzell, raised over $2,000 to assist heart disease and stroke research, as well as services for heart disease victims and medical professionals.

Karly Shipley, a current Criminal Justice student kicked-off the event by sharing her very productive shadowing experience with a local state trooper. She communicated the importance of visiting multiple areas within a field of study, preparing questions ahead of time to discuss with a mentor, wearing professional attire, and many more valuable tips. Students in attendance were also shown how to search for health career shadowing opportunities, complete a Career Coach interest survey, explore more about their future careers through various databases, and connect with student, alumni and employee mentors. Students were also treated to lunch from Subway.

Gettysburg Campus Update

Please encourage your students to check out the next Lunch 'n Learn session on Monday, Oct. 19 about building a student's resume now through part-time jobs within their field of study. Sample resumes will be shared along with new features about the Career Center. This session will be tied to a Job Fair with available local part-time jobs that will take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in The HUB. Students are encouraged to RSVP to Lisa Graham-Herrick to ensure enough refreshments are available.

RECYCLING EFFORTS

Realizing the quantity of markers used on campus, Andrea Metz, faculty librarian, has agreed to package the waste markers for shipment to Crayola's ColorCycle program. This program accepts any type of used marker for later use as a source of clean energy for Crayola factories, thereby keeping the markers out of landfills. To obtain our goal of collecting used markers in each of our 36 classrooms, the Sustainability Committee is collecting shoe and tissue boxes. Please drop your empty boxes in the receptacle in the mail room or faculty suite.

Adams Rescue Mission currently picks up all of our paper, cardboard and plastic recycling. Please note they no longer take glass for recycling. Signage on the recycling bins is in the process of being changed.

Guest presenter Michelle Chatman, Ph.D., assistant Professor & Coordinator, Sociology, Initiative in Civic Engagement and Equity, University of the District of Columbia recently hosted a discussion on Passing, a novel written by Nella Larsen in 1929 during the Harlem Renaissance.

The novel explores the ways in which race, class, gender, and sexuality influence self-identity. The plot centers on two light-skinned women of African-American decent and their fascination with each other's lives. Irene is married to a prominent African-American physician, lives a middle-class lifestyle in Harlem and embraces the socio-economic class in which she finds herself and "passes" only when it affords her opportunities within that structure. Claire has fully embraced her white ancestry and "passes" as white, so much so that she is married to a white man who knows nothing of her ancestry.
