

Fund for Excellence for High School Partnerships

Many brilliant high school students across the country are well prepared for college. However, many of these superstars lack access to higher education before they graduate from high school because they are financially disadvantaged and cannot afford college tuition and books. High school students are not eligible for traditional financial aid.

YOUR support will help high school students get a jump-start on their education by supporting initiatives at HACC like:

College in the High School (CHS)

The CHS Program offers high school students affordable access to college-level courses right in their high schools. CHS courses are offered at many high schools within HACC's 11-county service region. The instructors are high school teachers who meet HACC's high standards for its faculty.

Dual Enrollment

The Dual Enrollment Program gives high school students the opportunity to attend college courses at HACC's five campuses and online. Dual Enrollment students learn firsthand how exciting it is to learn on a college campus with college students while they jump-start their education. Some even complete their associate degrees before they even graduate from high school!

YOU can help to ensure that the best and brightest high school students in Central Pennsylvania have access to innovative programs built to help them get ahead of the curve. "HACC has been wonderful to me. By the time I graduate high school, I will have 32 college credits completed – the equivalent of one year of college and at half the price of a four-year college!"
