

Explore YOUR world with HACC's Fundamentals of Geospatial Science online class

Globally
YOURS.

Calling all:

- Business owners
- Engineers and surveyors
- First responders
- Grant writers
- High school students
- High school teachers
- Researchers
- Realtors

You may be surprised to know that you use geospatial technology and spatial analysis every day. After all, you navigate from place to place, provide directions or utilize data all the time. Learning more about the technology used, how knowledge of spatial analysis can impact you and how that knowledge can improve your life or your career is vital.

In the online class, Exploring Our World: Fundamentals of Geospatial Science, you will:

- Learn fundamental concepts of geospatial analysis and map interpretation
- Utilize technologies such as geographic information systems (GIS), global positioning systems (GPS), cartography, remote sensing, geo-visualization and interpretation, Internet mapping and spatial statistics
- Discover how geospatial technologies and tools are used in data collection, analysis, presentation and problem solving

REFUNDS: If HACC cancels a course, seminar, conference, trip or tour, all paid participants will receive a 100 percent refund of tuition. In the event of a cancellation or class schedule change (other than due to inclement weather), the College will make every effort to notify students enrolled in the class. All other refund requests must be made in person, in writing or by telephone during normal working hours. Students requesting refunds prior to the first class meeting will receive a 100 percent refund of all tuition and fees, unless fees are noted as nonrefundable or an earlier refund deadline is published.

Mailed or faxed refund requests must be received in hand by HACC staff before the class start date or any earlier published refund deadline. If we are not informed of nonattendance before the refund deadline, no refund will be issued. Unless otherwise specifically stated or approved, no refund will be issued after a class start date. In the event a student starts a class late or does not complete the class, partial refunds are not issued.
