

Massage Therapy Program (MSTH)

You cannot put money on what I learned at the HACC Massage Therapy Program.

HACC Massage Therapy Program. The teachers had a lot of experience, and they were very knowledgeable.

And I fell in love at the first day of all the classes.

I knew that I was gonna get a great educational experience but I had no idea the bonds of friendships that you would make and closeness that you would feel with everybody.

The people I worked with were phenomenal, the teachers were very professional and taught me everything I think to prepare me for what I would experience in the real world.

I think HACC gave me the tools and the knowledge to know how to begin starting my career as a massage therapist.

The school had it all.

It was spa and essential oils.

We had swedish massage and we had sports massage.

There was reflexology.

And myofascial work, I really liked that.

There was anatomy and physiology.

And one of my favorites was when we did the connective tissue piece.

Right out of school I felt like I was a very solid, knowledgeable massage therapist.

And I have since opened up my own business in Carlisle.

I'm my own boss. I set my own hours. And it's so wonderful.

I'm working at a physical therapist's office in Carlisle, Cardin & Miller Physical Therapy.

I'm doing a healing art in my own studio at home.

Right now I am working in my home. I have a very flexible schedule.

For my life with four children, this is perfect for me.

I know there are many people out there with Bachelors degrees and some even Masters degrees that are not earning the income that I am right now.

There's a lot of rewarding parts about working as a massage therapist.

I feel very happy that I can help to heal.

Making them feel better.

As massage therapists, we're a steward of an ancient art and science.

And HACC really combined those two parts together.

I think it's definitely doable for anybody who hasn't been in a college even, you know, people that haven't been to college since high school they haven't been in school.

I loved my teachers.

Come to HACC. This is the best of the best.
