

Subject: Your Coronavirus Preparedness Questions Answered – June 30, 2020
Date: Tuesday, June 30, 2020 5:09:07 PM

Greetings!

We recognize the remote instruction experience may have been completely new for many of you, and we are grateful that you have hung in there with us to reach your goals.

As you may know, we use real images of students and employees to demonstrate the personality and experiences at HACC. By 11:59 p.m. today, we are seeking written and video testimonials from students who were hesitant, scared or worried about taking a remote instruction class, but overcame these feelings after starting the class.

If this sounds like you, please:

1. Choose at least one of these options to share your testimonial:
 - a. Create a video (using the guidelines on our webpage)
 - b. Submit a written testimonial and image of yourself (using the guidelines on our webpage)
2. Share the following information in your video and/or written testimonial:
 - a. What were your feelings when you learned that your class was going to be remote instruction?
 - b. How did you overcome your feelings?
 - c. What was your experience like?
 - d. What do you think of remote instruction now?
 - e. What would you say to others who may be hesitant or confused about remote instruction?
 - f. What tips would you share?
3. Complete the #HACCtogether online form

As you have come to expect, following are the commonly asked questions and our responses to them. Please note that some of these responses are tentative and subject to change.

If you have additional questions and you do not see the answers on the website, please submit the online form located on the website. Please see the webpage section called "Information for Students."

We will continue to update you regularly via email and the aforementioned website.

Thank you!

1. Which classes will be coming back to campus to complete the hands-on lab components?

During the week of June 29, students in the following programs will return to complete hands-on labs from the spring 2020 semester:

- Medical Assisting in Gettysburg
- HACC Academy Automotive in York
- Welding and HVAC in York

We have identified and trained wellness screeners, and we have prepared the spaces to maintain cleaning protocols, distancing and personal protective equipment (PPE) requirements.

2. Are certain courses approved to hold hands-on components on campus this summer?

Yes. Certain programs were approved to hold hands-on training during the summer to make up requirements from spring classes.

Please visit hacc.edu/SummerReturn for more information and the list of approved courses.

Please note that:

- The list of approved courses will continue to be updated.
- Not all courses with hands-on components will be brought back to campus. If course outcomes can be accomplished remotely, we will not risk the health and safety of our students and employees to bring optional hands-on components to campus. Therefore, we are limiting the hands-on components to required program classes that have course or program outcomes that absolutely cannot be completed remotely.
- If you are a student in one of the approved courses, you will receive a detailed email from your instructor or program director.
- HACC's campuses are still closed to the public, and only essential employees and those involved in the approved programs are permitted to return at this time.
- HACC is offering classes online through remote instruction and virtual learning for other courses during the summer semester.
- Student services are also provided remotely.

If your course is scheduled to hold hands-on components on campus this summer, and you are uncomfortable doing so due to medical conditions (or family members with medical conditions), please contact your instructor to make arrangements to make up the work as soon as possible in the fall semester.
