

HACC, Gettysburg Campus presents Community Education Day Tuesday, June 14, 2016 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Community Education Day features a continental breakfast, lunch and three class selections. Review the course offerings for each session time and choose one.

8:30-9:00 a.m. (CHECK IN AND CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST)

9:00-10:30 a.m. (SESSION I)

From Script to Syndication: A Step-by-Step Look at Producing a 30-Minute Comedy - (S11)

Do you ever wonder how groups of writers work together to create a single episode of your favorite show? In this session, we will take a closer look at how a script becomes an episode, what goes on in the infamous “Writers Room,” how producers navigate censorship, and the logistics of on-set production for a multi-camera show. Tara Stillions Whitehead will draw upon her experience working with the producers and writers of The Big Bang Theory and Two and a Half Men. Instructor: Tara Stillions Whitehead, HACC English Faculty

Sustainability 101 – Your Ecological Footprint: What is it and Why does it Matter? - (S12)

People, particularly in developed countries, are using natural resources at a rate much greater than they can be replenished. This unsustainable activity is negatively impacting the environment, which provides critically important services to promote human well-being. In this session, we examine how individual choices regarding transportation, energy, food, housing and purchasing impact the environment. Participants will have the opportunity to calculate their ecological footprint and determine how various lifestyle changes can reduce their ecological footprint. Instructor: Rosie Bolen, Mount St. Mary’s Biology Faculty and member of Hundredfold Farm Community

Safeguarding Your Financial Identity - (S13)

We have never been more vulnerable to having our identity stolen. In 2014, 12.7 million US consumers had $16 billion stolen by fraudsters. This session will provide steps you can take now to protect your identity from fraudsters, hackers, scammers, and phishers so that you can safely surf, shop, and bank on-line. Instructor: William Bair, CFA, AIFA, The Financial Consulate

Gettysburg 100 Years Ago: Gettysburg and World War One - (S14)

Do you recall what life was like just 50 years ago? If you are a retiree, you surely do. But let's travel back yet another fifty years to those days of the "Great War" that our grandparents experienced almost 100 years ago. Learn how the events "over there" impacted Gettysburg, its residents, and changed our town. Instructor: Terry Havel, HACC History Faculty

GRAINS for BRAINS – How Whole Grains Can Make the Difference – (S15)

This class will introduce what whole grains are as compared to processed grain foods; where to find/purchase them; why to eat them and how to use/cook with them. And yes, participants will also get to TASTE them! Instructor: Eleanor Pella, RD, MS, LDN and HACC Nutrition Faculty

I Didn't Know I Could Get that on the Internet - (S16)

Explore travel, history, the arts, books, fun, science/medicine, and the absurd...all on the internet. Learn how to find information and discover new interests on the internet in this jargon-free and laid-back class. We will visit and look at free sites like iTunesU, Academic Earth, TED Talks, StumbleUpon, The Smithsonian Institution, TripAdvisor, GoodReads, IMDB, and much more. This class is geared for any level of computer user. Instructor: Josh Rumpff, HACC Coordinator, Instructional Design

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m. (SESSION II)

Beyond the Red Carpet: An Inside Look at Film and Television Production – (S21)

Life today has been intensely shaped by the televisual, and probably the most significant vehicle of communication is visual storytelling in the form of film and television. The stories and characters of our favorite shows have deep roots in how we view ourselves and the world; the narratives provide escape from monotony, critiques of societal flaws, and visions of mankind's potential or doom. All said, movies and television are closely tied to our identity. So if that is the case, why don't we know more about how they are made? In this informative session, we will explore some of the lesser known aspects of film conception, selection, production, and distribution, and the role of the industry in choosing what we see or don't see. Instructor: Tara Stillions Whitehead, HACC English Faculty

Sustainability 102 – Ecological Footprint Reduction: Lessons from a Local Community – (S22)

Since 1997, residents of the Hundredfold Farm cohousing community have been learning together as they explore and experience the practicalities of living sustainably. During this session, we will discuss how residents of this award-winning community have integrated sustainable practices into their homes and daily lives. Discover how the choices they made when developing and building their community have reduced their ecological footprint and improved their quality of life. Participants will have the opportunity to reflect on how they may incorporate sustainable technologies and practices in their own homes and lives to reduce their impact on the environment. Instructor: William Hartzell, HACC Biology Faculty and founding member of Hundredfold Farm Community.

Are You Financially Healthy? Find out by taking a Financial Physical – (S23)

Take the vital signs of your financial wellness. This session will guide you through a brief Financial Physical. Identify your financial vulnerabilities. Identify steps to take now to put you on, and keep you on, the path to financial wellness, security, peace and independence. Instructor: William Bair, CFA, AIFA, The Financial Consulate

Baker's Dozen: Thirteen Interesting, but Little Known Places to Visit in Gettysburg – (S24)

Dinosaur tracks to early airmail service. Opera houses to jailhouses and courthouses. Sports legends to the Underground Railroad. Indian attacks to tapeworm railroads. So many interesting stories about places in and around town you just might not know about. You could spend all day exploring sites in and around Gettysburg and none of it would be about the battle! Instructor: Terry Havel, HACC History Faculty

GRAINS for BRAINS – How Whole Grains Can Make the Difference – (S25)

See session description under Session I. Instructor: Eleanor Pella, RD, MS, LDN and HACC Nutrition Faculty

Social Media: Figuring Out Facebook – (S26)

This class offers an overview of the social networking site, “Facebook,” and ways you can use the site to meet others, find offers and deals, reconnect and stay connected, and get informed. We’ll look at how to set up Facebook to your own personal preference and get the most out of this popular social networking hub. This class is geared for any level of computer user. Instructor: Josh Rumpff, HACC Coordinator, Instructional Design

12:15-1:00 p.m. LUNCH

1:00-2:30 p.m. (SESSION III)

From Script to Syndication: A Step-by-Step Look at Producing a 30-Minute Comedy – (S31)

See session description under Session I. Instructor: Tara Stillions Whitehead, HACC English Faculty

Sustainability 103 – Sustainability on the Ground: A Tour of Hundredfold Farm – (S32)

Visit Hundredfold Farm. Founded in 1997, Hundredfold was established as a model of sustainable development. A short bus ride from the HACC-Gettysburg campus will provide you with the opportunity to tour the Hundredfold community, which includes 10 solar homes and an innovative artificial wetland used for waste water treatment. Meet and interact with residents who have committed to building an environmentally and socially sustainable community. Additional information can be found at www.hundredfoldfarm.org. This tour will include walking and standing on uneven ground. This class is limited to 14 participants and may not return to campus until 2:45 p.m. Instructors: William Hartzell, HACC Biology Faculty and Rosie Bolen, Mount St. Mary’s Biology Faculty are both members of Hundredfold Farm

A Portfolio You Can Sleep On....Investing For Retirement – (S33)

We will explore how to build a portfolio that will not keep you up at night. This session will show you how you can prudently invest your lifetime savings and be able to sleep at night....without a sleeping pill! We will identify the keys to investing for safety, reliability and consistency. Instructor: William Bair, CFA, AIFA, The Financial Consulate

Crack of the Bat – (S34)

Our national pastime, the music of summer: Baseball in the 19th century. How different was the game a century and a half ago? Who were some of the colorful characters who left their mark on the American stage? Why was baseball considered to be our "National Past Time"? And why did "Casey" have to "strike out"? Instructor: Terry Havel, HACC History Faculty

GRAINS for BRAINS – How Whole Grains Can Make the Difference – (S35)

See session description under Session I. Instructor: Eleanor Pella, RD, MS, LDN and HACC Nutrition Faculty

Surfing Safely on the Internet – (S36)

This class presents you with a no-nonsense look at many types of threats in the virtual world, how you can spot potential problems, and how to protect your computer. Do not let confusing computer terms, intimidating software, or frightening downloads thwart your online security. Learn about phishing, pharming, viruses and more. We will arm you with the tools necessary to “surf” the internet safely! Instructor: Josh Rumpff, HACC Coordinator, Instructional Design
