Update on the HACC Faculty Union - Nov. 10, 2025
Monday, November 10, 2025 4:37:03 PM

Greetings, HACC students.

On Nov. 7, 2025, the College notified you that the union has suspended its strike “until further notice,” and classes are continuing as scheduled. Additionally, the College continues to work behind the scenes to ensure your classes are not canceled, minimizing any disruptions to your learning, if a strike resumes in the future.

As we move forward together, we encourage you to take full advantage of the many free academic support services and engagement support services available to you as a HACC student. From advising to transfer services, these resources are designed to help you stay on track and strengthen your learning experiences. We also recognize that the end of the semester can bring stress and anxiety for our students. We are here to support you.

Please note the following:

1. Whether you need help understanding a concept, preparing for exams or improving your writing, HACC offers free in-person and online tutoring to all students. Tutoring can help you deepen your learning, build academic confidence and stay ahead in your coursework.
2. You can visit this website to learn more about additional academic supports, such as academic advising, accommodations support and career and transfer guidance.
3. You can access Mazzitti and Sullivan for confidential counseling and support services at any time.
4. We understand that some students may have experienced interruptions in receiving their accommodations from Student Access Services. If you have been affected or need assistance, please contact:

Vicki Van Hise, MSW

Assistant Vice President for Holistic Support and Engagement

ADA/504 Coordinator for Students
